Virtually the entire police department, members of Elks lodges throughout this area, auxiliary policemen, town officials, American Legion members and hundreds of others who genuinely mourn his death, sorrowfully turned out Monday at the last rites in St. Agnes Church for Police Lieut. Daniel P. Barry.

In the solemn funeral cortege which wound its way from the be-reaved family's home at 58 Webowet Rd., to the church were several hundred marchers, an honor guard, a rifle platoon, more than 20 cars filled with mourners—and so many floral tributes that the special car containing the flowers had to make a second trip to bring them to the church.

More than 800 silent mourners were crowded into the church when the service of a solemn high mass of requiem was begun, and almost as many rode or walked to Mt. Pleasant Cemetery afterward for the Committal service.

Major Building Project Starts; Ground Is Broken For 36 Homes To Be Built On Lake Street

A major realty development which when completed will give Arlington 38 new one-family residences got under way Tuesday, when ground was broken for the first of the houses at Lake St. and Wilson Ave., on a seven-acre tract known as the Lyons farm.

The homes are to be mostly single-family dwellings and are being built to sell at from $11,000 to $15,000. Their construction is being undertaken by James Taurasi of 82 Bates Rd., well known builder who recently completed 27 similar dwellings in the Arlmont Ridge section.

Mr. Taurasi told the Press, as steam shovels began clearing the site, that GT's would have first preference as buyers for the new homes.

Several streets will be either created or extended in connection with development of the new community. Both Mott and Mary Sts., running parallel to Lake St., and which now have block-long gaps, will be extended up to Wilson Ave. and Wilson Ave., running off Lake St., will be extended clear to the Concord Turnpike.

The initial phase of the development comprises a group of 20 dwellings to be constructed on Mary St., and on Lake St., itself. At least ten of these homes are expected to be completed within three months, and Mr. Taurasi hopes to complete all 36 units before snow falls again.

The ground work—clearing, excavating and landscaping—is being done by John Cadario, also of Arlington.

Family Thrilled By Phone Call From Daughter 9,750 Miles Away

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Brown of 52 Trowbridge St. were thrilled Tuesday morning to receive a telephone call all the way from Nanking, China, from their daughter Jeanne, wife of an Army flier stationed there.

Forewarned the previous night that the call would be put through Tuesday morning at 8, Mr. and Mrs. Brown waited with growing trepidation until 8:25, when the phone finally rang.

They talked with their daughter, Mrs. Forrest A. Mowry, and her two-and-a-half year old son, Forrest Jr., for all of 15 minutes and, according to Mrs. Brown, "their voices were just as clear as if they were just across the street. It certainly was a big thrill."

Capt. Mowry, who flew throughout the war, has been stationed in Nanking two years. His wife joined him there a year ago and, according to her parents, "she likes it there very well, and has no complaint, but she thinks we ought to help China."

Mrs. Brown had no idea how much her daughter paid for the call, but D. Joseph Murphy, local telephone company manager, told the Press that a weekday call from Nanking to Boston costs $12 for the first three minutes and $1 for each additional minute. Thus a 15-minute call would come to $60, and with a 15 per cent federal tax to a total of $75.

The distance from Nanking to Boston is 9750 miles, and Mr. Murphy explained that a call originating in Nanking would be relayed over land lines to Shanghai, thence by radio to San Francisco, from there to New York over land lines and finally to Boston.

Telephone service between Shanghai was restored in July of last year, Mr. Murphy said, and calls to this area are not infrequent.

While it was 8 o'clock in Arlington when Mrs. Mowry talked with her mother, it was about 12 o'clock noon Monday in Nanking.

Was Woman Injured?

Maybe Ernest Benshimol of 15 Shore Rd. backed his car into a woman pedestrian in Arlington Center Friday, and maybe he didn't.

But he took no chances: some woman, whose name he does not know, claimed he'd backed into her and hurt her left leg, so the driver reported the incident to police—as a matter of record.

The alleged mishap occurred while he was backing out of the curb, near the Five Cents Savings Bank, and the woman who said she was hurt walked away without giving her name.

Ryerson To Head DeMolay

Douglas Ryerson, of 26 Hopkins Road is to be installed as Master Councilor of the Belmont Chapter Order of De Molay. A public installation in the Belmont Masonic Apartments at Belmont Center will be held April 3, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Ryerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Ryerson, attended the Arlington Schools, Huntington School in Boston and is now a student at Northeastern University.

Fourth Car Crashes Same 'Safety' Isle In 2 Weeks; 1 Injured

Another auto—the fourth in two weeks—crashed into the trolley safety isle on Mass. Ave., at Lake St., early last Saturday, sending another person to Symmes Arlington Hospital.

John W. Stewart of 43 Washington Elms, Cambridge, driving into Arlington from the Cambridge line, failed to see the much-crashed-into, much battered bumper at the end of the safety isle—the first isle this side of the town line—and smashed into it as into a cement wall.

Mrs. Margaret Stewart, 23, of the same Cambridge address, a passenger in Stewart's car, was taken to Symmes Hospital in the police ambulance and treated for lacerations of the left ear and abrasions of lip and chin. The auto, badly damaged, had to be towed away.

In one of the three preceding accidents at the same spot, one man received a broken arm and a second suffered a compound fracture of the jaw.

Hardy Rites Today: Ex-Town Treasurer

Many town officials and employees were expected to attend funeral services this (Thursday) afternoon for Charles A. Hardy, former Arlington town treasurer, who died Tuesday at the age of 81.

Mr. Hardy retired as town treasurer in 1942 after serving the town in that capacity 21 years. Born in Cambridge, Mr. Hardy lived here 79 years. He was a graduate of Dartmouth, a former president of the Mass. Collectors and Treasurers Association and had held offices also in the Bay State Historical League.

Arlington Historical Society, Arlington Chamber of Commerce, Laymen's Unitarian League and First Parish Unitarian Church.

He leaves his wife, Laura, and a son, Charles L., of Penn Valley, Penn. The services today were to be held at 2:30 p.m. in the First Parish Unitarian Church.

The Anton Kovar String Ensemble will give a half-hour musical program at the meeting Thursday PTA. A color film of 18th century Williamsburg will also be shown.

Indulging In Luxury

The amount of $580,000 has been appropriated for a new elementary school building in the Mystic Side area, and this being a fait accompli it is too late to interpose any argument. The school will be built, and it will cost probably all of the $580,000.

For ourselves, however, we still believe that Arlington is spending too much for this one school in view of its location and the number of children it will serve. It will undoubtedly be a fine, imposing structure and an adornment to the neighborhood.

But many of our existing schools sorely need improvements, and an adequate new building for Mystic Side could have been provided for a great deal less than $580,000—a sum which could build a complete village of some 58 $10,000 homes.

Time To Say Thanks

Looking back on the first ten issues of the Press, we find ourselves deeply grateful for the warm reception and splendid cooperation we have received on all sides—from readers and merchants alike.

It has won public acceptance in a way which has amazed many observers, including newspaper publishers from other areas. For this we are thankful.

The sizeable investment made in a printing plant, owned by the Press, has proven well justified. Incidentally, we might repeat as pointed out in our first issue in January that the Press is under local ownership. George S. Tattan, the publisher, has lived in Arlington for years, has a citizen's natural interest in local affairs and is rather proud of his home town. It is, to him, a matter of real personal satisfaction that this newspaper has been so well received.

Meat Cutter Stricken Ill At Work, Of Ptomaine Poisoning

Strickon suddenly ill while at work as a meat cutter at the Stop and Shop store in Arlington Center Friday afternoon, Charles H. Eganage, 29, of 207 Quincy St., Dorchester, was found to be suffering from a severe attack of ptomaine poisoning.

A phone call from the store management brought the police ambulance and Dr. Feeley to the scene, and the victim was promptly given emergency treatment. He was then removed to Symmes Hospital in the ambulance.

Hospital authorities were able to release him Saturday, when he was taken to his home.

"He was a very sick man indeed, and very close to death," commented Daniel Horgan, manager of the store's meat department, "and we're certainly all relieved to learn that he got out of it all right."

Eganage had eaten in an Arlington restaurant shortly after noon, and an investigation was launched to determine just what made him ill.

About Town With Muriel

BY MURIEL MacDONALD MURPHY

COMBINING AN ENJOYABLE SOCIAL affair with a worthy cause, is the Women's Aid Society of the Symmes Arlington Hospital who are sponsoring their annual dessert-bridge party on Friday afternoon at 1:30, in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall. Mrs. Walter T. Chamberlain of Jason St. is Chairman of the committee planning the event.

WED IN A SETTING OF CANDIDLIGHT and flowers was Miss Barbara Louise Miller who recently exchanged vows with Mr. James Rudolph Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burns of Brooks Ave. at the evening service performed by the Rev. Nathan W. Wood in the First Baptist Church of Arlington.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Everett Miller of Jason Terrace was given in marriage by her father. Her lovely gown was of ivory satin with a yoke insert of marquisette edged in chantilly lace and seed pearl embroidery. A matching seed pearl tiara held her finger tip veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses and stephanotis. Two sisters of the bride, Miss Pauline E. Miller and Mrs. John M. Crawford, Jr. served as honor attendants. Their gowns were of lime faille and they carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Edith M. Alsen and Miss Dorothy Gleason, both of Arlington, Mrs. Vernon R. Crosby of Danvers and Miss Olive Carlston of Dorchester, were gowned in pale yellow faille and also carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers.

The best man's duties were performed for his brother by Mr. William H. Burns, Jr. Mr. Donald H. Houghton of Lexington and Mr. Oliver Houghton of Andover, cousins of the bridegroom, served as ushers with Mr. Vernon R. Crosby of Danvers and Mr. Robert Pike of Arlington.

A corsage of American Beauty roses with matching accessories contrasted the pale blue gown of Mrs. Miller while Mrs. Burns chose a corsage of white gardenias with her gown of dusty rose crepe.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York, New Jersey and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Burns will make their home in Arlington.

FROM MR. AND MRS. ALBERT J. HANSEN of Arlington comes announcement of the engagement of their daughter Elaine to Mr. Thomas F. Cahill of Boston. Mr. Cahill is now serving in the Merchant Marine.

EASTER BETROTHAL NEWS is made known by Mrs. Francis T. McDermott of Belmont, who, at a party in her home, announced the engagement of her daughter, Patricia to Mr. Roger Curtis Jr. of Arlington.

Miss McDermott is now a student at Simmons College. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Curtis of Summer St., is attending Northeastern University after having served with the armed forces during World War II.

Miss Mary Isabel Chisholm, whose engagement to Mr. James Arthur Judge has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh V. Chisholm of Watertown. Mr. Judge is the son of Mr. David Judge of Arlington.

An early Fall wedding is planned.

LIEUT. DANIEL P. BARRY At last his aches and pains have ceased, his suffering is over, and he is peacefully at rest upon the silent shore.

He climbed the hill of life with faith and purity of heart, and stored sweet love and wisdom that remained of him a part. "Lead Thou me on" he prayed each day.

strong in his faith that God Would ever guide and care for him in every path he trod. He loved his Town, and he was proud of its good name and fame, And glad he had a part in keeping its glory aflame. He worked to make the good prevail to lessen stress and strife, And bring the golden sunshine into every human life. He could not tolerate hate and greed in any form on earth; He strove with all his might and main, for harmony and mirth. He was a never-failing friend, and he had friends galore. And he was always happiest when they were at his door. He did a thousand little things to ease the troubled mind, And he would say "There's joy and peace in trying to be kind. EARL A. RYDER

I WONDER how many appreciate how efficient a public servant the late Lieut. Daniel P. Barry was, and how far-reaching his genial personality prevailed?

I WONDER who owns that pleasant voice that answers AR. 5-1303?

I WONDER if Mrs. Marion Kranfuss is still the Arlington women's cribbage champ?

I WONDER if Betty Crocker couldn't get some pointers from Mrs. Fanning of Bartlett Ave?

I WONDER what progress the Solendit Restaurant is making with its expansion plans?

I WONDER if Arlington children won't get quite a surprise when Gahm & Erickson's unveils its Steffi's "Gingerbread House"?

I WONDER if those trolley safety isles couldn't be better illuminated at night, so that out-of-town motorists wouldn't unwittingly crash into them?

I WONDER how the motorist who allegedly snuffed out his lights and sneaked off after an auto collision on the Pike, felt when police caught up with him through his license number?

I WONDER if even Bill McManus will be able to repair that Pontiac that got so badly smashed up on the safety isle?

I WONDER if Beverly Walsh of Westbrook, Maine, will be surprised to see her name here?

I WONDER who is the barber who recently met a gorgeous blonde and has been walking on hair ever since?

Scooping Around Arlington High

with KATHLEEN KIRSCHBAUM

A large number of Arlington High School pupils attended the Good Friday funerals of 19 year old William Covey '47, their former school-mate. Bill's high school career was highlighted with sports achievements. He was outstanding in football and spectacular as captain of the hockey team that won the New England championship.

For the first time this year, the Perickians presented a unique student-teacher program. Last Wednesday Perickian Forum members and their guests attended the discussion: "Would MacArthur Make A Good President?" The against-MacArthur partnership, Miss O'Connell-Paul Wilkins, and opponents Mr. Roensberg, Pat Kelley, carried on a lively session. A peppy round-table discussion followed.

The Ski Club was entertained at its last meeting by interesting movies of Norwegian skiers and their feats on the snow.

A.H.S. senior Donald Howard has added a new endeavor to the many he already has. This time it's a teen-age radio program presented Saturday noon from 12 to 12:15 over WCOP, in which he plays the part of "Sid". The high schoolers who present this program belong to an organization of young folks whose purpose it is to sell a product or thing, thus learning the "ins and outs" of business and making a profit at the same time. This weekly program has presented four broadcasts, with weekly scripts, centered around high school news, and a guest star as features.

INTRODUCING - JACKIE HUNT "Imported" from Fort Fairfield, Maine, is an adorable senior girl who plans to graduate from her new alma mater, A.H.S. this June. The cute Northern Maine accent from which this 5'3" miss claims she takes a world of kidding identifies her beyond a doubt as Jacquelyn Hunt, or "Spud" as she has been nicknamed on account of her former potato-country location. If Jackie's lyric soprano voice is as sweet as she herself, it's no wonder music is one of her favorite pastimes. In Fort Fairfield she used to sing church solos. For classical selections offered in the New England Music Festival last June she was awarded group I ratings denoting superiority. On her hobby list, too, are horseback riding and swimming.

This 18 year-old senior foresees a buyer's career for herself. One look at her tasteful wardrobe indicates that her talent in this field should bring her acclamable success.

Due to Holy Week observances, there was no school last Friday. The "Rec" dance that evening was also cancelled.

Every other week the Arlington Girls Club holds its meeting. Last week Mrs. Williams showed the girls colored slides on camp life. Among affairs planned for further spring meetings are a dance at the Universalist Church April 21, a Mother-Daughter meeting at which members will model clothing made under club instruction, a cruise with Edward Rose Snow, and a talk by Russell Curry.

Heavy Oil Truck Swerves Into Lighter Machine, Injuring 3, As Its Steering Gear Gives Away

When the steering gear on a heavy oil truck went out of order Saturday while the truck was being driven east on the Concord Pike, near Highland Ave., the heavy machine swerved to the left into a smaller truck coming the opposite way, badly damaging the latter and injuring three persons.

The truck, owned by the Arlex Oil Co., of 1540 Mass. Ave., was being operated by Charles M. McLeman Jr., of 44 Killythe Rd. It crashed into a Ford truck operated by Stanley Young of 75 Inman St., Cambridge.

Young was shaken up and bruised; his son, Robert Young, 18 complained of injuries to his back and head, and another youth in the machine, Leonard Cooper, also 18, of 3 Franklin St., complained of injuries to his back.

In another accident Saturday, at Broadway and Franklin St., three persons were injured.

A Packard sedan driven by Gerald G. Melanson of 40 Webcowet Rd., collided with a Pontiac sedan driven by Lloyd C. Lawrence of 227 Morrison Ave., Somerville, causing the Lawrence car to hit a third machine, driven by Rosemary King of 32 Newland Rd.

Lawrence suffered a cut on the forehead and a passenger in his car, Mrs. Doris Johnson, 31 of 9 Hudson St., Roxbury, suffered injuries to right arm and chest. Both were treated by Dr. Yood.

A passenger in the machine driven by Miss King, Mrs. Beatrice Bonnell, 21, of 755 Mass. Ave., complained of injuries to her right leg.

St. Jerome H. N. Annual Breakfast

St. Jerome's Holy Name Society will hold its annual Communion Breakfast Sunday, April 11, with breakfast at the Hardy School following 8 o'clock mass at the church.

The principal speaker at the breakfast will be Atty. Edward B. Hanify of Belmont. Rev. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons and Rev. John F. Pettie will be present at the breakfast.

A musical program will be provided by D. J. Mahoney and the Medford K. of C. quartet. The committee includes James McGrath, Ray Keefe, John Daly, David Fitzmaurice and Walter Sullivan.

Scouts Try For Awards

Keen competition is being evidenced among Boy Scouts in Arlington for the free camp vacations to be awarded this summer to one boy from each troop, under the Frank Thompson fund.

Under the rules set up by Sachem Council, only Scouts are eligible who have been members of their troop since Fall, during which he must have advanced one rank. The boy must also have given evidence of leadership ability, and must have lived up to the Scout oath and law.

The selection for each troop will be made by its scoutmaster, and each troop may include additional requirements to the four basic ones.

Warriors Lose Tourney Game

The Arlington Warriors, made up of 14 to 16-year-old players, were eliminated from the Charlestown basketball tournament when they lost their second tourney game Saturday to Belmont House, 53 to 20.

The locals had won their first tournament game the previous week, but their loss Saturday automatically eliminated them from the competition.

Members of the Warriors are: "Dip" Jeske, Don Robinson, Jackie Bowler, Bob Boyle and Ted Kenny.

Moderator On Radio Program

Atty. Lawrence E. Corcoran of Arlington will act as moderator at a round-table discussion on "Metropolitan District Problems," on radio station WNAC, Saturday evening.

Mr. Corcoran is state chairman of the American Bar Conference.

Trolley, Auto In Smash-Up

James Mattalilano of 16 Palmer St. was turning his car into Palmer St. from Mass. Ave., Sunday night, when one of his tires went flat, causing him to collide with a trolley car.

His car was badly damaged and had to be towed away, while Mattalilano himself suffered a bump on the forehead.

The weekly dance of the Arlington Youth Association at town hall are being resumed this Friday night.

Proudfoot In Hospital

Harry W. Proudfoot of 17 Jean Rd., who is president of the Arlington Auxiliary Police, was taken to Cushing General Hospital for observation and treatment Tuesday.

Mr. Proudfoot, who is an executive for United Shoe, broke his arm recently, and it is now believed he was even more seriously hurt.

The full roster of VFW officers follows:

Foley Jr.; vice commander, Robert Ganten Jr.; chaplain, Thomas Canty; quartermaster, for 12th year, Lawrence Le Febvre; judge advocate, Joseph S. Eddie Cantor In University Film

A letter from George Washington motivates the story in the gay new comedy, with music "If You Knew Susie," which starts Sunday at the University Theatre, starring Eddie Cantor and Joan Davis in the roles of two ex-vaudevillians who are frustrated in their plan to retire, with their two children, to Cantor's ancestral home.

Addressed to Cantor's great-great-grandfather, it refers to an award of $50,000 for services in the Revolutionary War. After fantastic adventures in Washington, the award if confirmed and reckoned up, Cantor learns that the government is now in his debt to the tune of several billion dollars.

Londons Limehouse, with its dark twisted street; its sinister inhabitants and its squat, shadowy houses behind whose walls a hundred dramas of real-life have unfolded, is the setting for the new dramatic triumph, "Murder in Reverse," the companion film. William Hartwell, the British Jean Galvin heads the cast.

Ex-Fliers Here See Air Force Weakened, Urge Prompt Action

The United States' air force is at present "woefully unprepared" to play its role as a first line of defense in case of war, and air strength must be bolstered if we are to avoid courting disaster, it was asserted here this week by C. S. Cummings, commander of the Arlington Squadron of the Air Force Association.

In a letter to the Press, Commander Cummings said:

"We, the Arlington Squadron of the Air Force Association, are gravely concerned over our country's critically weak military policy in relation to the strong foreign policy it is obligated to support.

"We do not believe that our present foreign policy and present air policy can exist side by side without courting national disaster. One or the other must change.

"As soldiers we learned through hard experience that the Air Force is our first line of defense.

"As veterans we have learned with regret and shame that our Air Force is now woefully unprepared for this role. We came to one of two conclusions: either the great mass of the people do not feel the necessity for an Air Force capable of defending them in an emergency, or, the people are not fully aware of the facts.

"Therefore, we call upon the Department of State to report to the American people in the frankest possible terms, stating the full responsibilities of the Air Force in supporting our present foreign policy and hemisphere.

Business Men Are Interesting

Mrs. Lillian Garber, shown above at her busy yarn shop at 350 Mass.

Ave., is proud of the many fine yarns she has assembled for the benefit of Arlington women who knit for profit or pleasure.

Many of her yarns are imported, such as French angora, and others from China and England. The bulk of her merchandise, however, comprises good domestic yarns most in demand—and more reasonably priced.

Mrs. Garber has been operating her cozy little shop only a few months, but already many women who know values have found the way to her door—and keep returning. The shop shares the premises of the Arlex Auto Driving School, an older-established enterprise conducted by Mrs. Garber's husband.

Church Seeking Site Here

Currently engaged in a search for a suitable church site in Arlington Heights—which they hope to find soon—the pastor and members of Trinity Lutheran Church, now located in Somerville, are now arranging to conduct a series of twilight vesper services.

These special services will be held in the fire station on Park Ave., where the church recently conducted Lenten services. The services will be held on Sundays and will be conducted alternately by Rev. Milton V. Gustafson, the pastor, and by Donald E. Johnson, assistant to the pastor.

Marks 80th Birthday

Easter Sunday was a particularly festive day for Mrs. Emma Daugherty of 19 West St., for it was her 80th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Daugherty was the happy guest at a family dinner at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice D. Bower, with whom she lives. She was made still happier by receiving during the day a phone call from her son William, who lives in Fairmont, West Virginia.

Present at the dinner besides her daughter were the latter's two sons, Richard D. Bower and his wife, and Donald E. Bower and his fiancée, also Mrs. Daugherty's great grandson, Douglas R. Bower.

Lathrop To Head

Tracelarm' Office

Well known in Arlington, Arthur E. Lathrop Jr., of 5 Ronsale Rd., West Medford, has been appointed Boston manager of Tracelarm, a protected money delivery and payroll service with offices at 148 State St., in Boston.

Mr. Lathrop recently resigned from the Yankee network, where he was director of merchandising for five years. He is an instructor in advertising at Boston University.

Tracelarm is affiliated with the William J. Burns International Detective Agency, and has branches in New York and Philadelphia. Mr. Lathrop is establishing the New England branch of the firm in Boston.

'Marshall vs. Molotov' To Be Address Topic Today Before Combined Local Service Clubs

"Marshall vs. Molotov" will be the topic of a timely and enlightening address before the combined service clubs of Arlington this (Thursday) noon.

Dr. George Washovich of Hunter College, New York, a professor of history and an authority on the slavic and Russian situations, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club to which the Rotary, Lions, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations have been invited.

The Kiwanians meet at the Boys' Club on Spy Pond, and because of the large attendance expected at this week's meeting the assemblage will gather in the large upper hall. The meeting is for 12 noon.

Pan-American Lecturer To Speak Here

Urging Arlingtonians to recognize the importance of inter-American unity, the Pan American Society of New England is inviting civic leaders here to meet at the home of Donald MacJannet, 208 Pleasant St., the evening of April 29. Mr. MacJannet is a member of the society's board of directors.

The speaker at the gathering will be Miss Katherine Lyford, noted lecturer on current Latin American affairs, who recently returned from a year's motor trip in South America.

The purpose of the meeting April 29, besides hearing Miss Lyford, is to discuss plans for awakening in the community greater interest in our sister republics to the South.

Exactly three minutes. The last egg was found at the end of 21 minutes.

An old-fashioned movie featuring Rin Tin Tin, rounded out the entertainment, and every boy received a peppermint candy stick as he left the club at the end of the morning.

All of the candy and Easter baskets were donated to the club by Mrs. Frank P. Sweet.

Boys' Club Egg Hunt Enjoyed

Junior and midget members of the Arlington Boys Club thoroughly enjoyed an Easter Hunt staged in the clubhouse Saturday morning.

Eggs had been hidden in the junior room, senior room and in the bowling alleys, and when the signal was given some 350 boys headed out of the gym in three directions.

First honors went to Tommy Cosgrove, who found the red egg in

The course, given in the physical education classes, was supervised by a field representative from Boston Red Cross headquarters, assisted by William Lowder, physical education instructor at the school.

Lt. Barry...

Heading the cortege was Police Chief Archie Bullock, in an official car. Next came a flower-filled car, and then a smart detail of 18 policemen headed by Sgt. William Riley. A Legion guard of honor led by Sgt. At-Arms John Collins bore aloft the American and Legion flags, and behind them marched a Legion rifle squad led by Manuel Consales.

The Auxiliary Police Association, which Lt. Barry had helped to organize and direct, had an almost 100 per cent turnout, with close to 100 in line.

Marching besides the hearse were the six pallbearers, four police lieutenants and two sergeants: Lt. Thomas Sullivan, Lt. Frank Meagher, Lt. James Flynn, Lt. Albert Ryan, Sgt. Charles Toomey and Sgt. William Germain.

The solemn high mass at St. Agnes was celebrated by Rev. Justin Durocher, with Rev. John Keohane as deacon and Rev. William Lirshah as sub-deacon. Rev. Fr. Durocher conducted the committal service at the grave in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, where taps were sounded and a volley fired over the grave.

Serving as ushers at the church were: Sgt. Ferdinand Lucarelli and Patrolmen Charles Scannell, John Hourihan and Edward Sullivan.

Arrangements for the funeral were in charge of William D. Grannan, assisted by his son Robert E. Grannan.

Troop 1 To Mark 25th Birthday

Boy Scout Troop 1, of the First Universalist Church, will celebrate its 25th birthday with a banquet and charter renewal ceremony next Tuesday evening.

Bill Anderson Jr., who was the troop scoutmaster when Mr. Evans belonged to the troop will conduct the installation. Rev. Robert Rice will assist as troop chaplain, and a main speaker will be Henry Shreibler, former scout executive of Sachem Council.

Several new scouts will be welcomed into the troop.
